That tremendous snowstorm: where is it?

Stanford White might be able to tell a few stories were he among the living.

Well, if Burlington wants to pay $20, 000 for that state fair, Burlington may have it.

One reason that Vermont has so many ex-governors is because she changes governors so often.

For the thanks which Governor Swettenham of Jamaica gives us for the tents that we furnished, let us be thankful.

They have devised a new way of handling the millionaires in New York city; they put 'em in jail on the charge of murder.

Don't kind sir, bring on the Teddy goats; we have had the Teddy bulls and the Teddy bears, which ought to fill the menagerie.

Senator Smoot, Mormon but no polygamist, is coming out on top in the Senate, and among his warmest supporters is Senator Dillingham of Vermont.

The thick-and-thin solicitude of Mrs.
 William Thaw is one of the bright and reassuring spots in the drama that is being enacted in New York at the present time.

William J. Bryan declares: "I regard the betrayal of a platform as the betrayal of a public trust." What a lot of traitors Bryan will see over in New Hampshire, with their pocketbooks padded with passes, when he comes east.

It is hardly fair to assume that anti-saloon leaguers are the only people in Vermont who are working to secure no-license in the individual towns and cities.
 They are, indeed, only a part of the army of workers who are working to that end, and the others are anti-salloonists.

Americans need not go up in the air just because the British have given Ambassador Bryce in Washington a salary equal to that given President Roosevelt.
 Nevertheless, we need to bear in mind that the president has no marked-down, sold-at-a-bargain job. Perhaps we may do better later on.

The latest victim of the "Who Zoo in Brattleboro" column in the Brattleboro Reformer is James F. (The Reformer is mean enough to call it Fudge) Hooker.
 In his caricature, Mr. Hooker is puffing out clouds of smoke labeled "Governor Hooker, "Congressman Hooker," and "President Hooker." The inference is that the Reformer intended to present it as a pipe dream on the part of the victim.

HEALTH REGULATIONS ABUSED.

If anyone doubts the value of some restriction regarding spitting on sidewalks, let him read the testimony of the Bellows Falls Times on a specific instance of flagrant disregard of all laws of health, which came under the observation of the editor. He writes: "Posting notices on sidewalks is an excellent are built with rub sense.

 invigorated. Built to stand ous hours.

idea. The writer noticed a man the other day who looked as though he was in the last stages of consumption. He was taking a walk and was humbled to the tops of the ears in a fur coat. He walked like a man tottering on the edge of the grave, and was coughing fearfully. Every few feet he expectorated freely on the sidewalk, thus distributing millions of tuberculosis germs to endanger the lives of his fellowmen."

We do not favor going to the extent of quarantining tuberculosis patients, as the contemporary later on suggests, but we do ask for a close observance of the law of health and the statute which was recently enacted by the Vermont legislature. It may be argued that the practice of spitting in the road is as bad as spitting on the sidewalk, inasmuch as the sputum dries as readily in the one place as in the other. Undoubtedly the sputum is subjected to the same drying processes of the sun and the wind in the road as on the walks, but as transportation is retarded by various agencies in the one case, while in the other the spread of the bacilli is helped along. During the summer season, when the worst trouble is experienced, the streets in the cities are kept watered, so that the drying processes of the wind and sun are retarded or prevented in large measure. In this case expectorating in the street loses much of its terrors. The same does not apply to sidewalks, which are dry and hot, so that there is nothing to prevent the release of bacilli from sputum. More important still is the agency of clothing, which sweeps the germs and carries them into the homes, where the release of the bacilli comes. From this one can readily see the difference of spitting in the road and on the sidewalk. Let's not have any painful repetition of this Bellows Falls incident when we can prevent it.
 So up with the "no spitting on sidewalks" signs, all through the state.

Darling Company of Barre Looking for Place.

Lowell, Mass., Feb. 20.—J. R. Darling, representing the A. E. Darling company of Barre, Vt., manufacturers of the Darling health waist, was in the city Saturday looking for a location for a plant here. Through Secretary Mc-Kenna of the Board of Trade, he was interested in floor space in the J. K.
 Fellows building, and secured favorable terms. If his partners agree with him, he will start business here, operating 30 machines at first, though the capacity will be increased 100 per cent. within a year. The company now turns out 200 waists a day.

RANDOLPH CENTER.

 their labor in Williamstown and are at H. B. Howard's.

The C. Brigham creamery paid 33 cents for butter-fat for the month of January. The Randolph Co-operative paid 32 1/2 cents.

KILLED BY HIS WIFE.

Ohio Negro Politician Had Threatened
 Her Life.

Springfield, Ohio, Feb. 20.—As Henry B. Valentine drew a revolver and threatened to kill his wife, Pearl Valentine, she fired twice, both bullets entering his body, killing him almost instantly. When Valentine got home at 11 o'clock Monday night he inquired about a man who had called up his wife over the telephone. He became angry and they had words. Valentine took their child from the bed and went downstairs.
 Mrs. Valentine feared trouble and grabbed a revolver to defend herself.
 As Valentine entered the room and threatened her, she fired. Valentine is a negro and a member of the Republican central committee.

EAST BROOKFIELD.

A Help to Health

Rexall

BEEF, WINE AND IRON

This is an entirely new preparation and is famous as a system-builder and general tonic. It differs from all other preparations of the same name in the treatment of the beef, the quality of wine and the form of iron, as well as in the manner of its preparation. Rexall Beef, Wine and Iron is not a stimulant. There is no period of depression following its use. It strengthens and builds by supplying actual flesh-forming nourishment. If you are feeling run down, this remedy will build you up; if you are weak, it will make you strong. It is the ideal food- tonic for invalids and for all thin, pale people. Remember our guarantee. If Rexall Beef, Wine and Iron fails to do all we claim for it, after giving it a trial you are not more than satisfied with the results, bring back the empty bottle and we will refund your money.

Price, 50 Cents Per Bottle.
